Washington gumbo feed set for Wed.

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Several members of the Annual White Cypress-Necaise Crossing Gumbo Festival are scheduled to leave early Monday for Washington, D.C., according to L.J. Breaux, president.

The cook-out at the Nation's Capital is co-sponsored by Congressman Trent Lott and will be held on Wednesday.

Breaux said his organization expects to feed some 400 persons in Washington, most of whom are Senators and Congressmen.

Breaux was re-elected as president at a recent meeting of the Hancock County organization.

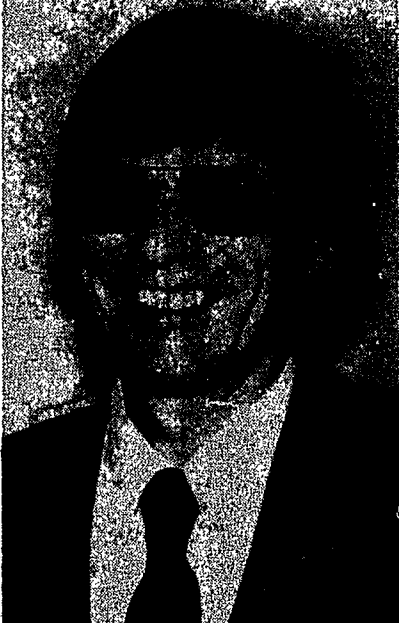

Other officers for 1984 include Wayne Cuevas, vice-president; Veronica Breaux, treasurer; and Cheryl Parker, secretary; with directors Louis Breaux, Kathy Ladner, David Ladner, and Gayle Moran.

The Annual Gumbo Festival at Necaise Crossing will be held on October 5, 6, and 7, Breaux reported.

Top Nashville entertainers will be at the festival again this year Breaux indicated.

Bay St. Louis is being held in the Harrison County Jail, charged with murder in connection with the incident.

"The police department received a call from Larry Dahl, Bay St. Louis dog warden at 1:14 p.m. reporting a disturbance at the Carroll Avenue residence. Dahl lives on St. George Street, backing the Carroll Avenue residence," Williams added.

The chief continued, "When police and Mobile Medic Ambulance Service arrived they found Kosbab with a telephone in his hand. He apparently had been trying to summon help."

"Harold Stigler, Hancock County coroner was summoned, and Kosbab was pronounced dead at the scene," Williams stated.

Gremillon is being held without bond. Williams said indicating no motive has yet been established.

Williams reported Kosbab was stabbed in the chest with a 'buck knife'.

Late Saturday Williams said Kosbab's family was notified, which included Ms. Arlene Goebel of Carpinteria, Calif., a sister.

The Bay businessman was manager of Hancock Insurance Agency, and was active in the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, United Way of Hancock County, Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, and other organizations.

Arrangements are incomplete at Riemann Funeral Home, Bay St. Louis.

Among those at the scene included Chief Williams, Captain Robert Dahl, Murray Ladner, investigator Joe Pica, investigator Robert Bibery, and Troy Jackson patrolmen, of the Bay St. Louis police department.

EXPRESSING OPINION—Objecting to the proposed Amtrak train station to be built at Elwood Bourgeois Memorial Park in Waveland at a Wednesday night City Board of Aldermen meeting at City Hall is Glenda Dean, left, as Pere Cabitt and Alderman Bob Hubbard listen to the discussion. The aldermen received a petition Dean presented with 20 signatures from residents opposed to the station location, but the officials tabled acting on the matter. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Waveland residents object to train station location

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Waveland Board of Aldermen Wednesday night received a petition signed by some 20 residents who object to an Amtrak passenger station locating near their homes.

Glenda Dean of Sandy Street told the aldermen that she obtained the petition signatures by walking door-to-door in her neighborhood during a two-hour period.

"On a weekend I could double or triple that number of signatures," she said regarding numerous summer residents in the area which were away when she circulated the petition.

Mayor John Longo replied, "The summer residents have never wanted progress. They used to come over here on the train when we were here selling them hot fish sandwiches to make a living."

The Amtrak passenger train is scheduled to begin operating April 29 along the Gulf Coast in conjunction with the New Orleans 1984 World's Fair to transport tourists.

Dean explained that she and other nearby residents fear vehicle traffic and crime will increase, causing the Waveland Park Subdivision, primarily a residential area, to deteriorate.

In addition, they are concerned that the traffic increase will endanger children utilizing the Elwood Bourgeois Memorial Park, Dean said.

She reported, based on her observations of commuter train stops in other cities, that undesirable criminal-minded people would later in the park.

The mayor explained that a building in the park will be utilized as a concession stand, a paved concrete parking area will be built paralleling the north side of Central Avenue near the Seaboard System Railroad tracks and a quaint boarding area will be built at trackside.

He said the train should not interfere with summer softball games at the park because he expects the train to leave Waveland at 2 p.m. and return by 4 p.m. daily.

Louis Smolensky, an alderman, said city police would be on duty at the station to prevent any criminal activities.

Smolensky said he would not agree with the residents' objection to the station location because it could be detrimental to the area.

mayor said regarding the former commuter train service.

Wayne Martin of Water Street replied, "Years ago you could leave home and leave your doors open. Years ago you could do a lot of things, so that idea is out."

Martin and Dean, both suggested the station be located at Coleman Avenue near the business district where the Civic Center could be utilized.

But Longo explained that there is not enough land for a station at Coleman and it would be closer to residences there.

Smolensky added that that a Coleman location would close down the soccer field.

Longo noted that the railroad company owns the ball park property which it leases to the city.

He said there would also be a station master on duty to keep order and the facility will be maintained on a regular basis.

Dean stated, "I think you're presenting an ideal situation and life rarely has ideal situations."

"I don't see a benefit in a train station at the park. I'm concerned about business in Waveland, but the safety of my son comes first," she said.

Longo stated, "The next step is to say we don't want it in Waveland because the feasibility of putting the station somewhere else is impossible. Bay St. Louis would just love that (to get the station there)."

Herman Yarborough, an alderman, stated, "I don't think any people will leave the world's fair and will come to Waveland to pick pockets."

Dean complained that residents have not been provided detailed information on what the city plans to construct as a train station.

Smolensky said the city officials have discussed the station for three years.

Longo said the station would help provide some city jobs.

The mayor said regarding Dean's concern of child safety when the increase of rail traffic, "I raised my family near the railroad and if any of them would get next to that track they would get a heavy welt on their (expensive) deleted."

Dean said she felt as a citizen she had an obligation to express her opinion.

Longo stated, "If we would have known this it could have saved us some work in the last three years."

Smolensky said if the people in his ward did not want the train station he would vote against it.

Dean asked if she should contact the railroad company which owns the property.

Smolensky stated, "You can contact Amtrak, the state or anybody you want!"

The board accepted the petition, but tabled any action in the matter.

Judge denies new trial in Koch murder case

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT

Circuit Judge J. Ruble Griffin Friday denied a motion for a new trial for James Koch, 50, of Shoreline Park, convicted Jan. 27 of capital murder.

Koch was found guilty of killing Deloris B. Manning, 50, also of Shoreline Park, by a four-men, eight-women jury after about six and one-half hours of deliberation.

Manning was killed in her bedroom Feb. 9, 1983 with a .357 magnum revolver.

Koch testified during his trial that he shot her in self-defense following an argument over money.

reasonable doubt and the matter should not have been submitted to a jury.

He also argued that a change of venue, which was requested but denied prior to the trial, should have been granted.

Other reasons for a new trial, he argued, included error by the court in failing to suppress an alleged oral statement given by Koch, failure by law enforcement officials to give proper Miranda warnings, introduction of prejudicial photographs of the deceased and failure to instruct that he had committed the crime.

McGrath said the prosecution was allowed to introduce rebuttal testimony by "other means" to show that Koch was not a "cold-blooded" killer.

Traffic accident claims Bay teen

A teenager from Bay St. Louis is dead and his passenger is hospitalized as the result of a one-car accident Friday on Hwy. 7 some 13 miles north of Holly Springs.

Trooper Jimmy Brown of the State Highway Patrol reported that Clifford F. Gaudin Jr., 19, of 132 Leopold St. in Bay St. Louis was driving north at about 12:40 a.m. when he apparently lost control of his vehicle.

The car swerved into the southbound lane, jumped a drainage ditch, rolled several times and came to rest with Gaudin and Elizabeth Hope Payne, 19, of Monroe, La. pinned underneath, Brown said.

The two teenagers, both University of Mississippi students, were transported to Oxford-Lafayette County Hospital in Oxford where Gaudin was pronounced dead, the trooper reported.

Payne, who suffered bruises and a cut eye, was in stable condition at the hospital Friday afternoon, a hospital spokesman said.

HGH to cut costs with Medline Access

Hospitals nationwide have been fighting a long, frustrating battle with rising health care costs.

In 1981 these costs advanced 12.5 percent, followed by an 11 percent increase in 1982, or about three times the inflation rate.

This year economists expect another 11 percent surge, pushing the nation's health care bill to $345 billion.

In its efforts to contain these rising costs Hancock General Hospital has adopted a new program called Medline ACCESS, which will produce cash flow savings for the hospital and greatly simplify accounting and administrative tasks associated with the purchasing of basic supplies.

"We want the community to know we are doing something to reduce the rate of increase of health care costs," said Mike Dossett, hospital controller.

"There are many advantages to the new Medline AC-CESS program over our present system. But the one that attracted me the most was the big cash flow boost we get from carrying the Medline ACCESS stock at no cost until it is used."

"Right now we have approximately $3,000 tied up in inventory and the total amount will be available to us immediately when the Medline ACCESS program goes into effect," said Dossett.

Dossett explained that the new inventory and purchasing system will eliminate large numbers of purchase orders and bills, which are costly to process and maintain.

He said the total savings to Hancock General Hospital in the first year could be as high as $10,000 and that these reductions would directly affect the cost of services to patients.

Dossett also noted that the Medline ACCESS program offers price protection on basic supplies over contractually-agreed-upon periods of time. He said this permits tight budgeting control and eliminates the common practice by vendors of tacking on inflationary increases to the cost of supplies.

Medline ACCESS will be a significant element in Hancock General Hospital's overall cost-containment program this year, he said.

Trying to save a buck these days can be pretty rough. Make it easier by joining the Payroll Savings Plan...it's automatic, it's painless, and it's sure — U. S. Savings Bonds.

TIMBERLINE

By David Watts
Hancock County Forester

Among employees of the Mississippi Forestry Commission there is a group of individuals who comprise our county forestry crews and operate our fire detection system.

These men and women not only detect and suppress thousands of forest fires each year but they are often also engaged in the task of reforestation and otherwise tending to the forestry treatment needs of our timberland.

Who are the people who make up this unit? They are your friends and neighbors, your relatives, perhaps. They attend the same churches as you, their children attend the same school as yours, and they are concerned about the same day-to-day problems that concern you.

When do they fight fires and perform these other forestry jobs?

Commission forestry crews on the ground and their counterparts who man the fire towers are available to fight forest fires at any time, day or night, under any fire conditions.

When they are not actually fighting fires, you'll usually find them readying their equipment in order to be able to respond instantly to a fire call or (depending on the time of year) planting trees, plowing firelanes, conducting prescribed burns, deadening cull trees, etc.

Why do they work at such a hard and dangerous job? They, like all of us, have jobs in order to support their families of course.

But for these individuals, it goes beyond a mere "job."

These men and women care about the people in their community; they care about the woodlands they fight so hard to preserve and protect, and they care about the lives and property of their neighbors.

They care about our precious forest heritage that must be maintained so that future generations can enjoy it and benefit from it as we have.

It takes a special person to go into the thick, hot smoke of a wildfire where visibility is often limited to a few feet and plow a fire line or set a backfire to extinguish an onrushing blaze.

At times the smoke is so thick that only a forestry pilot can direct the firefighters, via radio, from his airplane to escape routes. The firefighters must take in order to avoid being trapped by the fire.

It takes a lot of stamina and dedication to operate a tree planting bar or ride a bone-jarring tractor or three planter all day, setting out trees; or jam a heavy tree injector into hundreds of trees to rid the forest of weak trees and make room for the better ones.

Many times they are called out in the middle of the night after a long hard day to fight a forest fire.

This job is not for everyone, but for these select men and women, it is a satisfying career they take pride in, and all of us in forestry are proud to be associated with such a fine group of people who care as much and work as hard as these people do.

In Hancock County we are especially proud of our "forestry bunch."

They go by the following names: Sonny Moran, Lynn Blackmon, Roxanne Cole, Albert Daniels Sr., Albert Daniels Jr., Bill Woods, Craig Singleton, Lynn Bingham, Danny Guillot, Darryl Ladner, and Carl Miner.

World Day of Prayer

The eleventh annual community-wide World Day of Prayer will be conducted at 10 a.m. Friday, March 2, at the Word of Faith Christian Fellowship, corner of Henderson and the Old Spanish Trail in Waveland.

Representatives from many area churches will attend and participate in the program.

The World Day of Prayer is an international observance of the first Friday in March each year.

The service, open to all, is interdenominational and ecumenical in nature.

This event has been hosted in years past by Main Street United Methodist Church in Bay St. Louis, Lutheran Church of the Pines in Waveland, Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis, First Missionary Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis, First Presbyterian Church in Bay St. Louis, First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis and the Assembly of God Church in Waveland.

County receives ad valorem taxes

Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County have received $170,664 in 1983 ad valorem taxes from Mississippi Power Company, according to Ben Benvenuti, the utility's local manager in Bay St. Louis.

Ad valorem taxes are paid by Mississippi Power Company to local and county governments once a year and are based on the utility's investment in the area's electric system.

Bay St. Louis received $32,834, Waveland $7,001 and Hancock County $130,829, Benvenuti said.

He pointed out that ad valorem tax revenues help support police and fire departments, schools, road improvements and many other vital city and county services.

Mississippi Power Company provides a lot of tax money for our cities and counties through its investment in a reliable electric system," he said.

The Gulfport-based utility paid 74 local governments across southeast Mississippi more than $14.6 million in ad valorem taxes in 1983.

U.S. Labor Department cites Mississippi Employment Service

The Mississippi Unemployment Security Commission has received a Certification of Merit from the U.S. Department of Labor in recognition of the productivity of the Mississippi State Employment Service (Job Service).

Lawrence Weatherford, regional administrator of the Department of Labor's Employment and Training Administration, presented the award to MESC Executive Director Cohen Robertson at a recent meeting of employment security administrators in Nashville.

The "225 Club" Award signifies that each Employment Service staff member in Mississippi funded through the Wagner-Peyser Act made at least 225 placements during fiscal 1983.

The actual placement rate was 227 individuals per staff year allocated. For the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30, 1983, Mississippi ranked 10th in productivity out of the 53 employment security agencies in the nation.

During fiscal 1983, the Mississippi State Employment Service placed more than 69,000 individuals in jobs. If each of these individuals worked one 40-hour week at the $3.35 minimum wage, an impact of more than $9.2 million would be felt by the state's economy in that one week.

Annually, that amounts to an impact of more than $480.8 million on the state's economy.

Employment Service Division Director Royal N. Gober said that, in addition to the hard work contributed by the Employment Service staff, the cooperation and assistance of local Job Service Employer Committees and other Mississippi employers have made it possible to achieve this high number of placements.

Gober also said that the goal set for fiscal 1984 is 250 placements per staff year allocated.

"We're making every effort to reach this goal," said Gober, "and with the continued support of the employers of this state, attaining this high mark is certainly possible."

MERIT AWARD—Employment Service Division Director Royal Gober, left, and Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director Cohen Robertson display the "225 Club" Award the agency has received from the U.S. Department of Labor.

Point of Law

(Prepared by the Mississippi State Bar. Some rights may vary from locality to locality. Always consult an attorney when in doubt about your legal rights.)

Q: My husband and I were driving down a state highway and saw an automobile accident occur. It looked as though one or more persons might be injured. I wanted to stop and try to help the people, but my husband would not stop. He said that if we tried to help any of the people, and they were permanently hurt or died, that they, or their heirs could sue us and get big judgment. Is my husband correct?

A: The Mississippi law says that if you, while exercising reasonable care, render assistance to any injured person at the scene of an emergency, you will not be liable for any damages to the injured person which result from your assistance.

Therefore, you will not be liable for any injuries to a person in need of emergency assistance, if you use reasonable care in assisting them.

Q: Several years ago I opened a small gift shop in my home town. Business was good for a while but now I am in financial trouble. I do not want to declare bankruptcy if I can keep from it. Can I declare bankruptcy on the business only?

A: If your business is a sole proprietorship, you are personally liable for all debts of the business, and therefore, you cannot avoid personal bankruptcy.

If, however, your business is incorporated, you may declare bankruptcy on the business without declaring personal bankruptcy.

Three young women named 'Outstanding'

Bay St. Louis residents Myrna Reynolds Gregory, Patricia Ellen Payne and Elizabeth Ann Santa have been selected for inclusion in the 1983 edition of 'Outstanding Young Women of America.'

The Outstanding Young Women of America program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 35 who have distinguished themselves in their homes, their professions and their communities.

Leading women's organizations, college alumni associates and public officials nominate deserving young women to participate in the program.

Serving as chairman of the program's advisory board is Margaret L. Arnold, honorary president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The accomplishments of these women have achieved the result of dedication, service and leadership—qualities which deserve to be recognized and remembered," Arnold said.

The three local women, along with approximately 23,000 fellow Outstanding Young Women of America from across the United States, will be presented in 1983 annual awards volume.

In addition, they are now being considered for one of the 51 state awards to be presented to those women who have made the most noteworthy contributions in their individual states.

From these 51 state winners, the Ten Outstanding Young Women of America will be chosen.

The ten national winners will then be honored at an annual awards luncheon to be held this fall in Washington, D.C.

Commission announces new brokers, salesmen

Forty-four persons passed the recent real estate broker's examination and are eligible to practice in the real estate profession as brokers, according to Harry Real Estate Commission.

The new real estate brokers include Patricia Cucullu of Bay St. Louis and James Pen-ton of Waveland.

The 42 successful candidates were among 47 applicants present for the broker examination.

Also, 48 persons passed the real estate salesman's examination and are eligible to practice in the real estate profession as salespersons, including Marie Beacham of Bay St. Louis and Clyde Bounds of Waveland.

Waveland crew working in flooded street area

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

City of Waveland crews Friday were working on Lizana Lane and Edwards Street in an attempt to correct persistent drainage problems in that area.

The city work followed a second appearance by residents of that area at a Waveland Board of Aldermen meeting Wednesday night.

Standing water and numerous potholes in the streets are the prime complaints of the residents.

Attending the Wednesday night meeting were Winny and Carl Ladner Jr., Rene Caldwell and Cindy Taylor, all Edwards Street residents.

Carl Ladner noted the Mayor John Longo and Herman Yarborough, city maintenance superintendent and an alderman, had both pledged at a previous meeting to assess the drainage and street problem.

Yarborough reported that Lizana Lane had been graded and when the road settles it will be patched.

Winnie Ladner reported the traffic coupled with recent rains had caused washouts and more potholes on Lizana.

Carl Ladner acknowledged that city crews have worked many hours with hand tools, but their efforts had not accomplished anything significant.

He suggested the city deepen and clean out ditches so the streets could drain.

Yarborough said there was a city drainage ditch where the Ladner house is now located.

Winnie Ladner replied they have lived on Lizana for five years and there is no trace of a ditch on their neighbors property.

"We want the water out of the street," she stated and noted drainage has always been poor while they have lived there.

Yarborough reported the nearby Seaboard System Railroad also prevents adequate drainage of the area.

Carl Ladner stated, "Water comes down Lizana (from Jeff Davis Avenue) and it's like a running river... with no place to go. The water gets to Edwards Street and there it stays."

Longo said he would inspect the area Thursday morning to see if drainage could be diverted to the west.

The mayor inspected the area Thursday and crews were working with heavy equipment on the streets and ditches Friday.

State still among worst in U.S. in soil erosion

By Dr. Bob Chapin
Land Use Center
Mississippi Cooperative
Extension Service

Mississippi can do much to improve soil, forest, water and wildlife.

Living space is still abundant in the state, but we need to clean it up and make it healthier.

A 1984 Environmental Quality (EQ) index, published in a national wildlife magazine, indicates the nation is still losing ground in quality of wildlife, soil, minerals, forest and living space.

Of eight categories listed in the index, only air and water have shown improvements.

Mississippi ranks third in the nation in soil erosion. An average acre in the United States loses 6.8 tons of soil per acre each year. Five tons per year is a normal loss except on thin soils where two tons per acre would be better.

In Mississippi the average loss is 11 tons per acre per year. Very little soil erosion occurs in forests or pastureland except for gullies, and these can be restored and grassed over.

Cropland and construction are where most soil erosion occurs. Leaving residues on the land, winter cover crops, mulches and conservation tillage can help reduce considerably erosion.

As erosion is controlled, water quality will improve. Irrigation on one-half million acres is increasing rapidly in Mississippi. In time this will cause more groundwater problems.

The amount of groundwater in Mississippi is awesome with nearly three quadrillion gallons of storage.

Even so, some areas are having municipal water shortages from groundwater problems. Better management in use of water is needed.

Forests help improve groundwater quantities, air quality, habitat for wildlife and produce wood for use in construction and paper production.

Land managers can help improve forests in the state by proper thinning and making sure each forest acre is fully stocked. Living among the forests of Mississippi is a great way of life.

Mineral production can be improved by making sure gravel and sand pits are shaped and seeded to ground cover as mining operations are concluded. Oil field and lignite sites should be cleaned up, stockpiled topsoil spread and returned to forest or crop production as operations are completed.

Wildlife can be benefited by planting more food plots, improving upland habitat and wetlands with such things as duck and bluebird boxes or brushpiles for rabbit and game animals. There is really no idle acreage in Mississippi because that which appears idle may be producing wildlife or controlling erosion.

Air quality in Mississippi is good with little acid rain. Acid rain occurs when large quantities of sulphur dioxide is released in the air by coal-burning industries and power plants. What New Orleans does affects Mississippi living.

The six 90-minute plays were written by six different authors, each of them taking one of Henry's wives as the pivotal character and portraying her from a sympathetic point of view. Each production functions as a separate drama special, but the events are shown in chronological order.

Starring are Annette Crosbie, Dorothy Tutin, Anne Stallybrass, Elvi Hale, Angela Pleasence, Rosalie Crutchley and Patrick Troughton.

HENRY'S WIVES
One of the most popular series ever telecast on both British television and American public television, "The Six Wives of Henry VIII," will be presented again on Mississippi ETV.

The series, starring Keith Michell as Henry, can be seen at 8:30 p.m., Thursdays, beginning March 1. It was first telecast in 1972.

FARM PRICES

The 1984 price outlook for soybeans, cotton and rice in Mississippi will be discussed by experts on "Farmweek," the television series about Mississippi agriculture, at 7:30 p.m., Monday, March 5, on Mississippi ETV. The interviews are shown as part of the coverage of the Agri-Marketing Conference held in Greenwood on Feb. 28.

Included on every "Farmweek" program are weather forecasts, farm news, market reports, advice for producers of various commodities and a calendar of upcoming events in the state. The series is co-produced by Mississippi ETV.

Ag Affairs

by Ed Blake

By ED BLAKE
Mississippi Farm
Bureau Federation
A VOICE FOR

AGRICULTURE STILLED

When word reached the Information department of the Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation last week that recently retired Jackson Daily News Editor Jimmy Ward had written his last words, a lot of fond memories were stirred amid the jolt of this setback to Mississippi agricultural reporting.

Jimmy Ward was a dedicated and curious, questioning but not prying, genuine friend of this state's agricultural industry who steadily worked, usually behind-the-scenes, for the betterment of the number one contributor to the Mississippi economy.

And while his "Covering the Crossroads" column contained more puns than plain turn of talk, Jimmy dependably constituted a personal and powerful force for all of Mississippi agriculture, despite his penchant for folksy reports from Jasper county.

Early in the fifties this AG Affairs columnist shared the same newsroom brotherhood with Jimmy who then was primarily a photographer and feature writer for the Jackson Daily News.

Also rubbing elbows with us in the JDN newsroom during that period was Austin McMurchy, veteran editor of the Mississippi Farm Bureau News who then covered Jackson affairs in City Hall, county affairs at the Hinds County Courthouse, and special assignments as well as taking a turn at making up the front page on weekends.

This writer was then fresh out of college and in addition to the police beat, I covered, strangely enough, a combination of the fire department, the Jackson public school system, chamber of commerce, and feature writing assignments.

Then, as now, my desk was adjacent to McMurchy's. A young freshman that joined the newsroom staff in those days was W.C. (Dub) Shoemaker, now editor-publisher of the Kosciusko Star-Herald.

Shoemaker hustled copy about the newsroom in his first assignment before coming under the tutelage of Ward.

Shortly his photographic skills were to emerge and his writing talents were tapped.

As staff photographer Ward accompanied me to Walnut Grove on one of my early feature assignments and was driving as we roared downhill in Neshoba county early that evening to collide with a pig crossing the highway. As we repaired a blown-out tire we increased together in agricultural knowledge.

My first hot news assignment out of Jackson also occurred with Ward as we responded to a gruesome highway wreck scene near Clinton and then raced the ambulance to the Jackson Infirmary to be on hand as the dying truck driver was wheeled in. Jimmy Ward was born of that blood and guts era.

In those days JDN editor Frederick Sullens was an extraordinarily talented artist with words whose political alignments are legend. However he was not close to the farm scene, and farm organizations that dared to organize agri-businesses bothered the fiery editor in no small measure.

When Ward succeeded Sullens he brought the JDN into a friendly alliance with agriculture with a perception that this state's leading resources were its soil and its common and uncommon people.

Then over many years Editor Ward periodically telephoned this writer and/or dispatched farm reporters to the Farm Bureau Federation's offices to check out facts for an agricultural report.

As often, I visited in Ward's office. He was always accessible and fair minded in his active interest in farm news.

Jimmy Ward knew how not to write a story or editorial as well as how to write them, and exercised this prerogative with a compassion born of his background. Often he sensed that an unwritten story was more relevant than a written one.

The growth of Jackson from a country crossroads to an urban center never turned Ward's head from a primary recognition of the importance of agriculture to this state.

Ward tried hard to focus on agriculture's position in the mainstream of Mississippi life. And that is why last week agriculture lost a great friend when ill health and advancing years caused Jimmy Ward very reluctantly to turn in his final copy, and abstain from again sending out his reporters in search of relevance.

Controversy..... CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1A

controversy until Longo and the Waveland Board of Aldermen decide whom they will recommend.

Gibson said he realized his term had expired and noted he was chosen to complete the unexpired term of James DeBlanc of Waveland who resigned from the board when he was selected commission executive director.

DeBlanc noted Friday that he was appointed to the commission by former Gov. William Waller, was then recommended by Waveland to be reappointed by former Gov. Cliff Finch.

But Finch waited until four months before his term expired to approve the DeBlanc recommendation, he said.

DeBlanc reported that if the governor fails to appoint someone to the commission that, as in his case, the present commissioner continues to serve on that board until replaced.

He said, regarding the gubernatorial appointment controversy, that only Hancock, Harrison and Jackson have the right to recommend port and harbor commission appointees to the governor.

All other commissioners in Mississippi are recommended solely by the governor, DeBlanc added.

during which Koch pointed a gun at Manning and threatened to kill her.

This testimony, McGuire claimed, should not have been allowed because there was no proper showing of sequence, habit or pattern, and it was "remote in time" from Manning's death. McGuire then called Charles H. John to the stand.

John testified that he has worked for the Hancock County Sheriff's Department for 15 years and was a bailiff of the court at Koch's trial.

John testified that one of the jurors came out of the jury room to go to the restroom and jokingly asked, "Are you going to feed me?"

John said he answered no. Responding to further questions, John said he had not initiated a conversation with the juror and had not told the juror to "hurry up and give us a verdict."

He also testified that following that conversation, on instructions from Judge Griffin, he had asked the jury members if they wanted to be fed and they had said no.

OTHER COURT PROCEEDINGS
David Scott of Bay St. Louis, charged with taking money under false pretense on Aug. 16, 1983, received arraignment on Aug. 22, 1983.

escaping from Hancock County Jail Oct. 21, 1983 while confined for rape and sentenced to life in the state penitentiary, was arraigned and pled not guilty. His trial will be set for the April term of court.

Thomas Anthony McDaniel, 38, of Columbia, pled guilty to forging an S and J Trucking check for $250.00 which he cashed at Gulf Coast Tintors in Waveland on Aug. 19, 1983.

At Assistant District Attorney J.P. Compretta's recommendation, sentence was deferred pending a presentence determination and McDaniel was sent to Jackson County to face pending charges there.

Ronali Joseph Henry of Pass Christian was ordered to spend every Sunday for the next ten months working for Hancock County under the supervision of the Sheriff's Department.

He was also ordered to pay $100 per month until he has paid the $492.95 remaining on court costs and arranger fees in monthly fees to the Probation and Parole Office.

Henry, convicted of burglary of a dwelling, was sentenced in 1981 to seven years in the state penitentiary, with his sentence suspended and probationary bail.

Clerk explains role in new court system

By NAN PATTON EHRBRIGHT
Many people are confused about the changes in the Justice Court system that were initiated in January, Justice Court Clerk Rhonda Patton said Friday.

According to Patton, this confusion is resulting in delays for citizens and thwarting new procedures which were designed to streamline justice court proceedings.

"Many people still don't know that the number of justice court judges has been reduced from five to two," she said.

"More importantly, they do not realize that when they want to file a lawsuit or an affidavit, or pay a ticket, they do not have to call a judge."

Patton said that anyone who needs to transact business in justice court should stop at the Justice Court Clerk's office on the second floor of the Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, which is open weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 5 p.m., or call her or Deputy Clerk Marie Klein at 467-5573.

"If we are not here," she added, "we can be reached through the sheriff's office."

OH REALLY!—Your saying Lady Di that if we don't get out this Hancock County Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive in Waveland soon that we will perish. Surely not, they should recognize that we are royalty. That makes no difference, Charles, we're in America now and royalty brings no preferred status here. And besides, the shelter is overcrowded with dogs and puppies, so Friday night many of us must go, forever. This is an outrage my lady, we must have a good home with a fenced yard now! The people must call for adoption information now by getting on the tele to the Bay-Waveland Humane Society volunteer at 467-0230 Thursday from noon until 3 p.m. or Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

PUPPIES ON DEATH ROW—These three adorable pups are examples of the many types of fine little guys now available for adoption at the Hancock County Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive in Waveland. But the problem is that there are too many puppies and dogs at the shelter, so many of these animals must be painlessly destroyed Friday night unless good homes with fenced yards are found before then. For adoption information please call the Bay-Waveland Humane Society volunteer at 467-0230 Thursday from noon until 3 p.m. or Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

LEFT HOMELESS—The owner of this fat, gentle and beautiful female mixed breed spaniel died and none of the relatives want her. The name of this little beauty is Zoek (she's been spayed and is now a lady). She is available for adoption at the Hancock County Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive in Waveland. For adoption information please call the Bay-Waveland Humane Society volunteer at 467-0230 Thursday from noon until 3 p.m. or Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

NO PLACE TO GO—Clara is the name of this four-year-old mixed breed Labrador who was left homeless when her owner died. Her two puppies are weaned as they need homes too. They are all at the overcrowded Hancock County Animal Shelter on Gulfside Drive in Waveland. For adoption information please call the Bay-Waveland Humane Society volunteer at 467-0230 Thursday from noon until 3 p.m. or Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Down Home By Darlene Underwood

WEIGHT-OFF-WISELY:

Our yearly weight loss clinic is currently being held on Wednesday mornings, 9:30-11:30 a.m. at the Agriculture Building Auditorium, 405 Necaise Ave., Bay St. Louis.

Although the class has met for five weeks, it's still not too late to join us. So far the 18 participants have lost a total of 88 pounds. The series will meet seven more classes. It's free and open to any interested person.

HOME LANDSCAPE

"Planning the Home Landscape" has been a successful "do-it-yourself" 4-part series for the past few years. The first class met last Tuesday. Three more classes are scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 14, 21 and 28; 9:30-11:30 a.m., 405 Necaise Ave.

Participants will make a plot plan of their yards, plan a landscape design and learn to cultivate, maintain and propagate landscape plants. Participants should plan to attend all classes and expect some homework assignments.

SPRING GARDENING

It's really not too early to start making plans for your spring garden. It's exciting to think about tilling the soil and planting those new varieties of vegetables, then nurturing the tender plants until they reach maturity, but sometimes our gardens fall short of our expectations.

John Davis, Area Extension Horticulturist, and Lee Taylor, County Agent, will conduct a gardening class on Tuesday, Feb. 28, 6:30 p.m. The program will be held at the Agricultural Building Auditorium.

Attending our class will not guarantee success, but it will certainly help. John and Lee will discuss planting dates, soil analysis, recommended varieties and pest and disease control—Join us!

MICROWAVE COOKING

Microwave ovens cook many foods faster than conventional ovens, a convenience for homemakers with limited time. Because they cook food fast, they use less energy, and because the oven walls and cooking plans don't get hot, there's less baked and burned on food to clean up.

The operation of a microwave oven is a two-step process compared to the three-step process of a conventional electric oven. A conventional oven uses electricity to heat an element, which heats the air in the oven, which heats the food. This heated air also heats air in the kitchen by conduction through the oven walls and by convection of air through the air vent. In the microwave oven, the microwave generator converts the electricity to microwaves which heat the food. The one missing step is the heating of the air, in the oven, so a microwave oven loses none of its energy through the oven walls or air vents.

Although a microwave oven is 100 percent efficient in converting the microwaves to heat in the food, it is not 100 percent efficient in converting electrical energy to microwaves. Most microwave ovens have 450 to 700 watts of cooking power, but require 1,000 to 1,700 watts of input power. The actual efficiencies range from 40 to 50 percent.

Defining the efficiency for a conventional oven is difficult because preheat time is needed and because the oven can cook several items at the same time with little additional energy. More than one food can be cooked in a microwave oven, but additional time and energy are needed. We can, however, compare the amounts of energy required to cook various foods in conventional and in microwave ovens.

For most foods, the microwave oven used between one-quarter and one-half of the energy required for conventional ovens. One reason for the large difference is that a microwave oven needs no preheat time—turn it on and it starts to cook. Also, because all the microwave energy is directed at the food, the food takes less time to cook. A meat loaf in the table requires an hour and a half in a conventional oven but only about 15 minutes in a microwave oven. A 12-pound turkey requires only one hour and 20 minutes in a microwave oven.

It should be noted that energy savings can be made with a conventional oven by cooking several items simultaneously. When two or more items are prepared at the same time in a conventional oven, the total amount of energy required is just slightly more than the amount required for the item that takes the longest to cook. When two or more items are prepared in the microwave oven at the same time, the total amount of energy required is about the sum of the amounts required for each item.

Microwave ovens are expensive, so you can expect one to pay back its cost in energy savings even within 10 years unless you'll be substituting it for an inefficient conventional oven you use a lot. The main advantages of a microwave oven are the added convenience for the cook and reduced energy usage.

Gulf Coast accountants to hear G.H. English

President G. H. English of the First National Bank of the South will be guest speaker at the February meeting of the Gulf Coast Chapter of the Mississippi Association of Public Accountants.

English will discuss the essentials of financial statements for loan purposes.

The meeting will be held in the Gulfport Room of Airport Holiday Inn in Gulfport at noon Wednesday, Feb. 29.

Gulf Coast Chapter President John Montgomery urges all public accountants, their staffs and students majoring in accounting to attend.

Reservations may be made by phoning 864-333, 872-1770 or 475-1084.

Objectives of the association include improvement of the profession of public accountancy and an exchange of ideas and experiences to provide better service to clients, Montgomery said.

Beauty Festival plans announced

The seventh annual Magnolia State Beauty Festival will be held March 11-12 in Biloxi at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum and Convention Center.

This year's show is to be held in conjunction with the Mississippi Hairdressers and Cosmetology Association's semi-annual meeting.

Attendance is expected to surpass 1,500. This is the largest professional trade show for Mississippi's hairdressers and barber stylists.

Ten internationally known guest artists will appear representing the major manufacturers of professional beauty and barber products.

The Mississippi Hairdressers and Cosmetology Association will present contests Sunday night and Monday on styling, cutting and versions of new spring and summer trends in hairstyling.

For ticket and contest information call 1-800-824-2301 in Mississippi toll-free.

Company reports increase in taxes

Ad valorem taxes paid by South Central Bell to Gulf Coast counties and cities amounted to more than $4.5 million in 1983, according to Don Roberts, district manager.

In Hancock County, Bay St. Louis and Waveland, the total was $348,752.03.

In Harrison County, Pass Christian, Long Beach, Gulfport and Biloxi, the total was $2,950,405.49.

In Jackson County, Ocean Springs, Moss Point and Pascagoula, the total was $1,280,408.33.

The $4,589,566 in taxes paid to the three counties and their municipalities reflects an increase of more than $418,000 over the 1982 tax payment, Roberts said.

It is expected South Central Bell will pay approximately $29 million to Mississippi municipalities and counties for 1983 ad valorem taxes, he said.

These payments are part of an estimated $55.6 million tax bill that will be paid by the telephone company to Mississippi and its counties and municipalities for 1983 and does not include income, social security and excise taxes paid to the federal government.

Candlelight vows unite Moran, Lipscomb

Main Street United Methodist Church was the setting for the February 4 candlelight wedding of Anabelle Lipscomb and Bernard E. Moran, both of Bay St.

Louis. Rev. Curtis Moffat officiated at the double ring 8 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris Lipscomb Jr. of Bay St. Louis. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Milton E. Moran, also of Bay St. Louis.

Basket arrangements of white gladioli and carnations accented with blue blossoms and gothic brass candelabra decorated the church.

Musical selections were provided by Mary Howard, organist, and John Mason, vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white chiffon with Queen Anne neckline, empire bodice of re-embroidered lace enhanced with seed pearls and iridescent and full bishop sleeves with fitted cuffs. Her crystal pleated skirt was fashioned with a satin bow at the back above an overlay of pleating in a mock bustle effect. She wore a Victorian style hat of matching lace with illusion streamers at the back. The bride carried a silk cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, lily-of-the-valley and ivy.

Robinette Lipscomb of Bay St. Louis, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Renee Carver and Caroline Madden of Bay St. Louis and Cynthia Carver and Suzy Thomas of Waveland.

The attendants were identically attired in formal gowns of sapphire blue brocade satin each with off-the-shoulder styling and small puffed sleeves, fitted bodice and A-line flared skirt. They carried single long stemmed cream white roses trimmed with blue and satin streamers and wore hairpieces of tiny flowers and baby's breath. Miss Melissa Carver of Bay St. Louis was flower girl. Michael Burkes of Waveland was ring bearer.

Michael Dedeaux of Bay St. Louis served the groom as best man.

Groomsmen were Steve Carver and Billy Monti of Bay St. Louis, Howard Carver of Waveland and Dean Williams of Larose, La.

James Burkes of Waveland was usher.

A reception followed the ceremony at Christ Episcopal's Virginia Hall. Angela Burkes served as rice girl.

On return from a wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple will reside in Waveland.

Mayfield, Lucas exchange vows

Patricia Catherine Lucas and George Edward Mayfield, both of Waveland, were married February 11 in an afternoon ceremony at the groom's home on Old Pecan Grove. Rev. Curtis Moffat officiated.

Nuptial music was presented by John C. Mason of Bay St. Louis, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Lucas of New Orleans. The groom's parents are the late Mr. and Mrs. James L. Mayfield.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white lace tea length gown fashioned with Victorian neckline, long sheer sleeves and deep V-yoke outlined in a lace ruffle. She carried a cascade of daisies, mini-carnations and baby's breath with fern.

Mrs. Kim Debenport of Waveland attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a lavender and ivory tea length gown with matching jacket and carried a nosegay of daisies, mini-carnations and baby's breath.

James Morlan of Bay St. Louis was best man.

A reception followed at the home of the groom.

Ornithologist Toups addresses Diamondhead Garden Club

Mrs. R. B. Boatright, president of the Diamondhead Garden Club, heard reports from the following chairmen at the meeting on Feb. 15 in the Aloha Room of the Country Club:

Mrs. George Kollasch, beautification and litter chairman, will send a letter to club members, setting the week of March 24-30 as clean-up week in preparation for the Pilgrimage on March 30.

Birds chairman, Mrs. William Neff, said the bird sanctuary signs were being redone and would be placed at their sites in time for the pilgrimage.

Flower show chairman, Mrs. T. D. Fredian, asked that members volunteer for necessary committees for the show to be held Apr. 13-14.

Mrs. R. M. Figueroa said that the Garden of the Month plaque had been given to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swartzendruber.

Membership chairman, Mrs. W. T. Marshall, said Mrs. R. Fryer had been accepted as a new member.

Pilgrimage chairman, Mrs. Howard Mitchell, said the Kraft home had been withdrawn, and announced that all homes would be closed from 11:30 to 1 p.m.

Mrs. Wayne Wadington, roadsides chairman, said Mr. John Snuffs, a member of the Highway Commission, would supervise the planting of trees in Diamondhead at the Arbor Day ceremony on Feb. 22.

Mrs. Karl Stuart, trees chairman, gave a brief interesting talk on the acacia tree.

Mrs. L. R. Wallace, ways and means chairman, reported all calendars sold, a few cookbooks and boxes of notepaper still available; also took orders for summer-flowering bulbs and finalized plans for the tour to New Orleans Decorator's Showcase.

Mrs. James Feirich brought the floral arrangement, which was critiqued by Mrs. Jan Brameyer, accredited flower show judge.

The president announced that Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, a member of the club, had been elected second vice president of the Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs for a two-year term.

Guests introduced were Mrs. John Carter, L. Stevens, I. Keith and H. Sokol. There were 78 members present.

The program, given by Mrs. Judith Toups, noted ornithologist who is a member of the Mississippi Museum of Natural Science and a columnist for the Sun/Herald, used for the title of her slide presentation, "Backyard Birding." Submitted by Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, publicity chairman.

DAR proclaims February American History Month

By Joe Pilet
Publicist

Friendship Oak
Chapter, N.S. DAR

Daughters of the American Revolution are sponsoring American History Month throughout the entire month of February.

This is done as a tribute to the brave men whose sacrifices made possible the freedoms we enjoy today.

Flags flew Monday, Feb. 20, in honor of our first president, George Washington, who has the distinction of being the only president for which a state was named!

Our impressive center of Government, Washington, D.C. was also selected by George Washington who hired the well-known French engineer, L. Enfant, to develop a plan for the city.

Recalling some of the highlights in our country's history we will remember that tourists from all over the world visit Washington's home, Mount Vernon, each year and enjoy the view from that edifice of the beautiful Potomac River.

Washington's likeness was carved on Mount Rushmore—the head measuring six feet across, sculpted on the mountainside of the Black Hills of South Dakota by Borglum.

No other American has more often been honored than Washington. Many towns, streets, cities, lakes, parks and schools have been named for him. His portrait appears on postage stamps, on the one dollar bill and on the quarter.

The myth about Washington cutting down the cherry tree was invented by Parson Weems, who was a book seller.

After Washington retired he enjoyed living at Mount Vernon where he went horseback riding daily, wrote many letters, and made frequent entries in his diary.

His last letter was addressed to Alexander Hamilton in which he expressed the need for establishing a national military academy.

The last entry in his diary, "Morning snowing and about three inches deep. Mer 28 at night." These were his last written words, (December 12).

Dr. James Craik attributed Washington's death to "inflammatory quinsy." Doctors today think he must have died of a streptococcal infection of the throat.

Washington died on Dec. 18, 1799. In France Napoleon Bonaparte ordered ten days of mourning, in the United States thousands of persons wore mourning clothes for many months.

Washington wrote on June 8, 1783, a circular letter to the governors of the states in which he said:

"I now make it my earnest prayer that God would have you and the State over which you preside, in his holy protection, that he would incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government, to entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another, for their fellow citizens of George Washington. They ring out to remind us that the privilege of living in a democracy must be paid for by constant attention to affairs of the government.

Note: Washington's circular letter was copied from a book entitled 'In God We Trust' by Norman Cousins.

By REV. B.C. KELLER, SVD
God's love can make us secure. When we are confident of his care, we can let go of the worries that burden us and the luxuries that distract us. Like Jesus, we can break bread and share it with others.

Religious instructions for students in grades 6, 7 and 8 are after the 9 a.m. Mass today.

Weekday classes are at 3 p.m.; on Monday for grades 1 and 2; on Tuesday for grades 3 and 4; and on Wednesday for grade 5. Confirmation class is on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m.

The Veterans Civic Association will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. All members are urged to attend.

Do you know about the person next to you? Come and find out! This Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. we will have a get together for all our high school students at St. Rose Parish Center.

Gospel Choir will practice on Tuesday at 6:30 p.m.

The Word of Faith Christian Fellowship, corner of Henderson and Old Spanish Trail is hosting an annual community observance of the World Day of Prayer Friday at 10 a.m.

This is an ecumenical service which includes people from all the local churches and community to attend and add their prayers to this world wide expression of gratitude and petition to God. The service will not last more than one hour.

Next weekend family portraits will be taken in the cafeteria.

This project is being sponsored by parents of students attending Bay Catholic Elementary to help in their tuition aid.

If you have not already signed up, please contact Mrs. Joan Thomas 467-7807.

Our Parish Council will meet on Thursday, March 8 (not March 9, as originally scheduled) at 7 p.m. in the parish Meeting Hall behind the Parish Center.

Comments are welcomed from parishioners expressing their concerns.

Any suggestions will be considered by the council. The fine art of listening will unlock more doors to life than anything else.

Liturgical committee is requesting families to volunteer for the service parts of our Wednesday evening Lenten Masses.

The confirmation class will take care of this for Ash Wednesday and the Gospel Choir will do the singing. Outside church choirs may be invited for other Wednesdays.

MASS SCHEDULE
Sunday, 7 and 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Daily, Monday through Saturday, 6:30 a.m.

Saturday (Vigil), 6 p.m.

Mother of Perpetual Help Novena at beginning of Tuesday Mass

Confessions are heard half before weekend Masses and upon request.

The Abundant Life

By Shawn Murphy
Bay St. Louis Church of Christ

Do you believe in a supreme being? Does God exist?

These are questions that are asked constantly throughout the world and deserve an answer.

Let me say from the outset that it is impossible for me to 'prove' to anyone that God exists. Just as it is impossible for the atheist to 'prove' that God does not exist.

I will boldly say that it is far more reasonable to believe that God exists than that He does not.

Traditional arguments include the 'intuition' argument which states that man is incurably religious and that something causes us intuitively to know that we are products of God.

Then there is the 'Moral' argument which states that because man has an innate capacity to know right and wrong that the existence of this capacity necessitates a creator.

And there is the 'Teleological' argument, or the argument from design. In other words, design demands a designer.

One of my favorite stories is of Ben Franklin. Once, when he was ambassador to France, living in Paris, Franklin was at a scientific club meeting where atheistic sentiments were expressed.

The next morning Franklin brought a beautifully designed and executed model of the Sun and our entire solar system. It was a masterpiece!

Upon seeing it, a sophisticated member of the club asked dryly, "Who made it?" Franklin, without smiling, responded, "No one. It just happened."

"The heavens are telling of the glory of God; and their expanse is declaring the work of His hands." (Psalm 19:1-2)

A tasty, budget-stretching meat loaf is the answer to so many needs. Make it big, and make use of the leftovers. That's what I do.

I make a meat loaf larger than needed, so as to have lunch or sandwiches, and also so that I can use some, crumbled as a stuffing for green peppers, or cabbage, or in a tomato sauce for spaghetti. And when you give it that "Florentine" touch, as many dishes with spinach are called, you have a special meal at a relatively piggy bank price. Here's:

MEAT LOAF FLORENTINE
1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
1 egg
2/3 cup seasoned bread crumbs (dry)
1 tsp. oregano
Dash of basil
Dash of black pepper
Dash of hot pepper
2 cups spaghetti sauce (your own, or if you must, use a jar from the store)

110-oz. pkg. frozen spinach, thawed and drained
1 1/2-oz. pkg. mozzarella cheese, shredded
3 Tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese
Mix together the ground beef, egg, crumbs, seasonings with about a half cup of the spaghetti sauce. Pat the mixture into a square, about nine pers., or cabbage, or in a tomato sauce for spaghetti. Spread the spinach over the mixture to within about an inch of the edge and sprinkle mozzarella over.

Roll the meat, starting of course, at one end, until the ends overlap a bit, then pinch the ends to seal. Place the loaf with the remainder of sauce seam side down in a loaf pan, about 8 by 5 inches. Cover and bake at 350 degrees for approximately an hour. If it's getting too dry, add a bit of water or red wine.

Extension Service explores 'Creative Home Financing'

FINANCING

Part One
This is the first of a three-part series on creative home financing.

Is your family one of the many who are finding the goal of home ownership difficult to achieve? If so, you may be motivated to look into the vast array of creative financing options.

Lenders were hit hard by recent high interest rates and inflation. They are no longer willing to take as many risks on the standard, fixed-rate, level-payment mortgage.

They now offer adjustable rate mortgages which require the borrower to share in the risk of escalating interest rates.

Lenders still offering fixed-rate, level-payment mortgages charge a high rate for these mortgages.

Borrowers unwilling to take the risks of adjustable rates and unable to pay the higher interest on fixed-rate mortgages have opted for several types of creative financing.

Many of these involve assuming an existing, lower-rate mortgage. Quite often, they involve the seller as the lender, or one of the lenders, in the mortgage agreement.

Assumption
Assumption of an existing loan enables the buyer to pay lower than current interest rates.

It also means that a greater proportion of each payment goes to reducing the principal. The assumption may be what is referred to as an agreement "subject to" the existing mortgage. In this case, personal liability for the loan remains with the seller.

"Subject to" agreements are made between buyer and seller. The lender of the existing loan may or may not be involved. In a true assumption, the existing loan is transferred from the seller to the buyer.

Sellers entering into "subject" agreements are wise to inform their lenders of the transfer and ask for notification in the event the new buyer defaults, so that they can prevent foreclosure.

Many loans are not assumable because of "due-on-sale" clauses, permitting the lender to consider the loan due and payable with transfer of property.

Seller-Held Mortgages
At times, the seller will become the lender of the first mortgage or deed of trust. These seller "take-back" loans are subject to state usury laws.

The buyer is able to get a lower interest rate and lower settlement fees. The seller should screen buyers carefully.

Baxter presents New York World's Fair memorials to Biloxi Diocesan Archives

Lionel F. Baxter of Bay St. Louis, a Knight of St. Gregory, presented to Bishop Joseph L. Howze of Biloxi two framed memorials of the Vatican Pavilion exhibition at the 1964-1965 New York World's Fair.

The gift to the archives of the Diocese of Biloxi was made on the occasion of Bishop Howze's recent pastoral visit to Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis. They are limited editions, numbers 138 and 139, signed by Most Rev. Bryan J. McEntegart, bishop of Brooklyn and vice president of the Vatican Pavilion and the late Francis Cardinal Spellman who was archbishop of New York, military vicar for the Armed Forces of the United States and president of the Vatican Pavilion. The memorials contain full mint sheets of 40 or the 100 lire, slate gray, stamps designed with a portrait of Pope Paul VI, and the 250 lire, brick brown, with a detail of the Madonna head from the Pieta by Michelangelo.

The stamps were printed in sets of four on April 22, 1964 in the rotary photogravure process and watermarked with the Keys of St. Peter. The Vatican Pavilion displayed Michelangelo's Pieta at the fair in 1964 and 1965.

This priceless piece of art was sent overseas with the most sophisticated precautions taken for its safety, the first time in history that it had traveled thus from its permanent home in St. Peter's Basilica in Rome.

Bishop Howze said, "This is a very historic and beautiful gift, which will always have a special place in the diocesan archives."

The gift was made on the 20th anniversary of the New York World's Fair and shortly before the advent of another exhibition of priceless Vatican art at the New Orleans World's Fair in the summer of 1984.
